Subject:	RE: termination letter

Dear Peter,
We are not prepared to amend or supplement the terminations notice. All our undertakings are set out in the agreement with sufficient clarity and do not require any further clarification or confirmation.
Please, proceed with the repayment of the Advance as per the terms of the Agreement.
Regards,
Yakov

Subject: termination letter

Dear Yakov

Having consulted our lawyer and partners I would like to ask you to add the following to the termination letter. It does not change the situation, but in our opinion clarifies it.

An e-mail version is enough for us.

Yours, Peter

Oded and Peter,

Here is what I suggest will be added to the termination letter being an integral part thereof:

After section 1.3:

" notwithstanding the afore mentioned, we hereby recognize that the termination of the Agreement does not occur due to any of your act or omission and under no event you will be held liable for this termination."

Section 2.2. will be transformed to 2.3, and a new Section 2.2. will be added as follows:

"2.2. We, directly or indirectly, hereby agree and undertake that we shall not circumvent or pursue business with; enter into negotiations or into contracts of any kind which are either partly or wholly, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the third party that you have introduced to us, without the prior approval of the you. We shall make our affiliates, subsidiaries, successors, assignees, parent companies, or branch offices, subcontractors, associates or employees comply with the obligation set forth above. "
